HOW DO YOU APPLY?

"In order to take advantage of these benefits, you need a graduation record from the Student area and registration as a Tec graduate," explains Javier Parra, Alumni Connection and Services manager, to CONECTA.

What's more, the “key” to these benefits is the EXATEC card issued along with onsite or virtual Bachelor's, Master's, or Doctorate degrees or specializations.

A duplicate of the card may be requested through the EXATEC platform, at a cost of 300 pesos including shipping, which will contribute to the Leaders of Tomorrow scholarship program.

According to data from the institution itself, the Tec has a community of about 300,000 alumni, living in all the states in Mexico and 100 other countries.

The Alumni Connection and Services area has a website that Tec alumni may use to view their different benefits, find out the latest news, and apply for the EXATEC card.
