

Tec Created the First Cybersecurity Hub in Latin America

Mónica Arreola | School of Engineering and Sciences

Mexico is the country in Latin America with the greatest need for cybersecurity training.

Tec de Monterrey wants to create conscience among society, train the future cybersecurity professionals, and develop research projects with entrepreneurs, companies, universities, public entities, and venture capital individuals.

In order to innovate, Tec university invited Citibanamex bank to be a member of the first cybersecurity hub in Latin America. The collaborators that will provide knowledge and infrastructure are Cisco, Deloitte, IBM, Thales, and The University of Texas in San Antonio (UTSA),

The first workshops will launch in January 2019: <http://llltec.mx/hub-cybersecurity/>
